Fall FISWG Wrap-up

The fall FISWG was on November 13th and it was another successful event filled with helpful content and education. Topics included an active shooter awareness presentation, DCSA roundtable, information about obtaining a safe, and an overview of the new facility vetting process. Presentations will be posted to the FISWG website. Click here to access them.

FOSTERING CREATIVITY AND CONTINUITY IN BUSINESS

NEEDING A ASSISTANT FSO

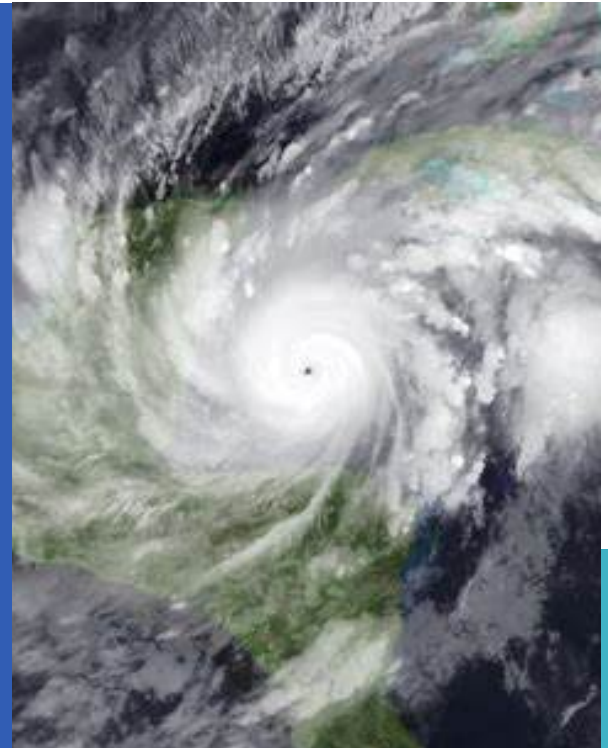

If you or someone you know is faced with meeting the requirement of having an Assistant FSO (AFSO), hiring someone may be your first instinct.

But FSD Services can be your AFSO for a fraction of the cost of hiring someone.

We bring years of industrial security experience to the table and the investment delivers a serious ROI. Contact us to learn more.

DID RECENT STORMS CATCH YOU OFF GUARD?

It's critical to have an emergency preparedness plan in place for when weather events or other disasters strike. A good plan will outline the steps to take leading up to an event (if possible), outline the communication team and process, and have actionable steps to take to recover after an emergency. We have templates and expertise available to help. And DCSA will likely ask you about this in your next audit so don't delay in your review and preparation.

HONORING ALL VETERANS, INCLUDING DAVID TOUCHTON, WHO SERVED IN OPERATION ENDURING FREEDOM

This month, we honor the courage and dedication of veterans who serve and protect our freedoms every day, including David Touchton, who served our nation before founding FSO Services. David served in the Army and served in Operation Enduring Freedom, deploying to the Middle East on September 9, 2001, just two days before the September 11 attack on our nation. David's military experience was a good fit for companies that work with the Department of Defense. He held several positions of escalating responsibility before he launched FSO Services, which helps companies ensure the best security posture against today's modern threats.
